

Small Farms: Saving Our National Treasures

A Food Freedom Renaissance Event

Featuring Max Kane and other speakers, fresh farm foods, and WAPF style cooking!

Please come and show your support for Estrella Family Creamery and bring our community together in the support of all our small farms here in WA state. The future of our food DEPENDS on it! This is an opportunity for all of us to get together in one place and time to develop real solutions that will work for our local food sovereignty.

Our moment is NOW – come and find out how you can make a difference.

When: Saturday, February 26th | 11:00 am – 4:00 pm

Where: 22409 N.E. 137th Street | Woodinville | 98077

RSVP by 2/18 to Kelli at saveourfarmfoods@gmail.com

FREE EVENT – Open to all who care about fresh, local farm foods:

- Chris Weber, chef at The Herbfarm Restaurant, will be on hand from noon to 2 to offer a few nibbles and to to auction a Dinner for 2 at the Herb Farm ($500 value) to support Estrella Family Creamery.
- Raffle – Enter to win a class on cheese-making taught by Kelli Estrella for yourself and 10 friends.
- Potluck lunch – Bring a dish inspired by your favorite farm.
- Panel discussions with Kelli Estrella and Max Kane (raw milk activist) on how consumers can help keep small farms in business. Also to be discussed: CSA's, land stewardship and traditional foods.
- Screening of films about the local farm food movements.
- Gorgeous food, artisan cheeses, and delicious desserts

All money raised goes to help Estrella Family Creamery keep their farm.

Space is limited. Reserve your spot now!

We love kids but for this event – adults only please.
